We Owe Much to Truthful History, on Paper or Film

Hope Star has distributed tickets to the city grade school students for the first of an occasional free motion picture show featuring the famous documentary films of Walt Disney — this show to begin at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Saenger theater.

It was our idea to begin with Disney's first one, "Beaver Valley," followed by "Seal Island" — in the same sequence the film-maker produced them. But this proved impossible, so we are starting off Saturday with one of Disney's latest and best: "African Lion." Added to the program is "Disneyland," the story of Walt's great West Coast amusement park.

But what we are concerned with is the wild-life documentary, "African Lion," which, like the recently shown squirrel story, "Perri," is the undecorated film story of just how God's creatures behave in their native habitat — without benefit of human associations, book learnin', high-flown theories, or what have you.

As a newspaper writer I know, as you also should know, that editorials (and all opinion-writing, for that matter) are less important than a good, honest report on history — whether it be in words or film.

Walt Disney started the whole world when he brought out his first animal documentary, "Beaver Valley." Here was a detailed film report whose subject was animals but whose meaning was for men.

The documentaries will give you peace of mind in these troubled times, for they tell you that all God's creatures make out somehow somewhere.

The documentaries fortify the natural and honorable instincts of men, for they tell you that in the untutored jungle there is great courage and immense sacrifice — so that the individual and his family may survive. Not all do, of course.

But the story puts a mark and a challenge on mankind as it faces its own problems in the world we call civilized.

Producers Getting Melon Seed Treated

Eight watermelon producers in Garland and Nowland townships have their watermelon seed treated with mercuric chloride to aid in the control of the leaf spot diseases that caused heavy loss to watermelon cucumber and cantaloupe growers last year. All pickle cucumber growers in Hempstead County have their seed properly treated upon receipt from the Brown-Miller Company.

Eight other growers in Garland and Nowland townships and 13 commercial growers from other parts of the county have 59 packages of cucurbit crop seeds at the Experiment Station for treatment before next Tuesday.

Commercial and home garden growers in Garland and Nowland may bring any amount of seed for the farm planting to the Jewel Burke store. Commercial growers of the balance of the county for the present time may bring their cucurbit crop seeds to the office of County Agent Oliver L. Adams or the office of Assistant County Agent for Negro Work, Cayce Smith.

Each Tuesday afternoon during March seed assembled are taken to the Southwestern Experiment Station for treatment with the mercuric chloride and with a fungicide to aid in the control of damping-off. Seed are returned to the assembly point the following Tuesday. There is no charge for the seed treating service.

In the attempt to get the plan of seed treatment underway County Agent Adams invited a committee of six commercial watermelon producers to meet at the Experiment Station to meet with Assistant Director Cecil Billie to discuss the research work on disease control. The committee approved the plan suggested and ask that meetings of other farmers be held so that the plan might receive their consideration. It was approved by 30 other farmers at the meetings held on April 25.

Seed treatment is only one part of the program. Other factors are a three year rotation using a well drained adequately fertilized soil; using seed produced in the arid west; dusting or spraying as recommended for insect control; dusting with 8 per cent Maneb for disease control when necessary; and precaution in moving from field to field during the growing and harvesting season. Local produced and seeds from areas other than the arid west are being treated but the control is not expected to be as effective.

The disease control aid plan is an effort to save the watermelon and cucumber industry that annually brings thousands of dollars to farmers of this area and Hempstead County. The Garland-Nowland townships plan of treating all watermelon, cucumber, cantaloupe, squash and pumpkin seed is to use a large area as a demonstration. The commercial growers seed treatment will aid in a more limited way as individual farm demonstrations. At this time all farmers are invited to use the plan.

The following watermelon and cantaloupe growers have seed treated or in for proper treatment under the plan to try to lower the great financial loss to the area's plant industry.

To Discuss GI Insurance Over KXAR

Veterans who have kept their GI insurance in force will be eager to hear a series of three broadcasts by Station KXAR next Monday, March 17 at 7:05. David A. Badgett, officer in charge, VA office, Texarkana, will be interviewed by KXAR at Hope on converting term policies to any of a half dozen permanent plans which are available. On Wednesday, March 19 at 7:05 he will discuss the advantages and savings which result from paying premiums quarterly, semi-annually, or annually; and on March 21 at 7:05 he will tell policy holders of the importance of keeping the list of their beneficiaries up to date. These broadcasts by KXAR in the interest of assisting the VA in getting facts to veterans which should be considered in managing their GI insurance.

Poultry Plants to Locate at Nashville

NASHVILLE — The Nashville Chamber of Commerce announces that a new industry employing up to 200 workers has been secured by the Local Industrial Foundation. The industry is the J-M Poultry Packing Co. which will operate a processing plant.

The annual payroll is expected to exceed $400,000. Nashville raised $210,000 to finance the plant. The firm has processing plants in El Dorado, Baton Rouge and Alexandria, La.

County Central Committee Sets Up Filing Fees

Hempstead Democratic Central Committee yesterday set the fees of candidates for the July - August primaries. Chairman W. S. Atkins presided over the meeting.

In other action the group passed a resolution calling on Governor Faubus to appoint Mrs. L. Clifford Byers as Circuit Clerk to fill the unexpired term of her husband who died last Sunday. A copy of the resolution was mailed yesterday to the Governor, requesting prompt action.

Mont Wardlaw was elected as committeeman at McCaskill, replacing C. A. Hamilton who resigned. Monroe Long of Friendship resigned as a committeeman and the group appointed Horace Montgomery to his post.

The fees were fixed as follows: County Judge, Clerk, Circuit Clerk, Treasurer, Tax Assessor and Sheriff $500 per candidate. This will be reduced to $300 providing more than one candidate remains in the race. Chancery and Circuit Judge fees were fixed at $100 and will be reduced to $50 providing more than one candidate runs.

The Coroner, Surveyor and Representative fee is $50 and drops to $25 if more than one candidate enters. Justices of the Peace and Constables fees are a flat $10 regardless of the number entering.

The law says that filing fee must be refunded to a candidate that withdraws prior to June 23, hence all candidates have to pay the full fee by the April 30 filing deadline. If more than one candidate is still running after June 23, part of the original filing fee as listed above will be refunded.

American Arms Air-Dropped to Rebels

SINGAPORE (UP)—Indonesian Premier, Djuanda charged formally today that "American-made" arms were airdropped to rebels in Pakanbaru just before loyal paratroops attacked the central Indonesian town Wednesday.

Djuanda told Indonesian newsmen in Jakarta he could not confirm local press reports that the plane which dropped bazookas, machine guns and small arms to the insurgents bore Australian air force markings.

Australian officials in Jakarta said the report is "completely untrue." There was no indication as to the source of the arms. Officials in Jakarta refused to say whether Indonesia intends to say "whistle-blowers" to the United States.

Previous Jakarta statements had announced the capture of Pakanbaru. Indonesian army headquarters said today loyal troops also are in control of Durnal, terminal on Sumatra's east coast for the Caltex Pacific Oil Co.

The army announcement said Durnal was seized Wednesday, at about the same time that Pakanbaru fell to the attackers.

Radio Moscow hailed the Jakarta government today for its "resolute action" against the rebels, saying that its resistance was a blow to "reactionary circles in the West."

A-Blast Made a Mountain Jump 6 Inches

WASHINGTON (UP) — Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby has testified that a small atomic bomb explosion in Nevada made a mountain jump six inches. Libby said it took four months to locate bomb fragments and resulting radioactivity following the explosion of the 1.7 kiloton bomb last Sept. 19.

He appeared Monday at a closed door hearing of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee. His testimony was made public Thursday.

Libby told the committee it would be "extremely difficult" to detect an underground atomic blast within the Soviet Union. "I think that there is no method that is absolutely certain" to detect such blasts, Libby said.

He said that in the Nevada blast, the tiny A-bomb blew itself a bubble of vaporized rock about 10 feet in diameter and about 55 feet in radius. The skin of the bubble, he said, was molten rock about four or five inches thick.

In the molten rock was all of the radioactivity of the bomb, he said. When the heat in the bubble cooled to the point where the pressure of the gas inside would no longer support the weight of the mountain, the bubble collapsed. The bomb crushed 400,000 tons of rock, Libby said.

He said the blast proved that bombs can be fired so that radioactivity does not come out, and that they can crush an enormous quantity of rock. He emphasized that it took four months to find the fallout from the bomb.

Libby generally backed Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Dr. Edward Teller, "father" of the H-bomb, in their opposition to a proposed two-year ban on nuclear tests as a first step toward disarmament.

Libby said a test limitation might be more in order than a test ban. He said the United States would be far behind its present position on atomic weapons if it had stopped testing years ago.

NEW YORK (UP)—The highest reported temperature in the nation Thursday was 88 degrees at Miami International Airport. The lowest this morning was 12 below zero at Bryce Canyon, Utah.

One Held in Attempt at Assassination

HAVANA (UP) — A taxidriver suspected of complicity in Thursday's attempt to assassinate former Commerce Minister Raul Menocal denied today that he had any hand in the crime.

Manolo Rodriguez said an unidentified man who had hailed his cab suddenly opened fire on Menocal's car, then jumped out of the cab and fled.

Police, who said there were two gunmen firing at Menocal, charged that Rodriguez was one of them.

The former commerce minister, who quit President Fulgencio Batista's cabinet to run for office in the low-postponed June elections, escaped injury. His secretary, Alfredo Perez Zaldivar, was seriously wounded.

A cordon of police prowl cars around Havana University Thursday prevented any demonstrations which might have been attempted on the anniversary of last year's rebel suicide attack on the presidential palace.

One person was injured in a scuffle with police who broke up an attempted demonstration in one of three churches where memorial services were held for those killed in the attempt on Batista's life.

Storm Warning System to Be Planned Here

An effective storm warning system for this area will be organized Saturday in a meeting at the City Hall at 10 a. m. according to Garland Medders, Hope City Manager, and L. B. Tooley, General Manager of KXAR. Officials representing the city, county, state, schools, farm groups, PTA organizations and industries are invited to attend as well as anyone interested. It was urged by John L. Wilson, the County Civil Defense chairman.

The plan will work around the recently announced storm warning system planned between the U. S. Weather Bureau and the Federal Communications Commission. Under the plan, radio and TV stations will give public warning with a signal and announcement very similar to the Present Central air raid warning. These warnings will be issued only when a tornado or a tornado type cloud in the affected area is spotted.

According to Medders and Tooley, frequent storm warnings affecting a wide area have been misconstrued by the public causing undue alarm.

Within the last few years, the U. S. Weather Bureau has developed a radar storm warning system that is now capable of spotting tornado type clouds anywhere within a 100 mile radius of the radar unit. The radar unit for this area is located at Shreveport. Under the new system, KXAR will be immediately notified by the Shreveport station should a dangerous storm develop in this area. KXAR will then immediately warn the public with the special signal and announcements.

In addition to the radar warning system, it is hoped that a spotter network in this area can be organized to warn a central point should a tornado be seen.

The plan will allow for immediate warnings to organizations or businesses where a large group of people are massed.

It is hoped, through this plan, to relieve the citizens of this area of the constant worry usually accompanying general storm warnings yet be able to give instant warning to the entire public should a storm cloud develop that would merit caution.

Full details of the plan will be released to the public as soon as possible after the Saturday meeting.

Sunday School Lesson

The Need for Saving Sinners
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

Saint Paul said, in writing to Timothy (1 Timothy 1:15): "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners."

Jesus variously defined His mission. To the questioning Pilate He said: "To this end was I born and for this cause am I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth" (John 18:37).

In a strange incident described in Matthew 15:21-28. He said that He was "not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel," but when He tested the faith of the Canaanite woman He commended her faith and healed her sick daughter.

But more broadly, Luke 19:10 records Jesus as saying that He came to seek and to save "that which was lost."

So, the faithful saying that Paul commends to Timothy was emphasized in Paul's mission of evangelism as he preached the Gospel in his many miles of journeyings.

He built the Christian churches through the conversion of many Jews like himself and proselytes who accepted the Christian way and witness, in the same spirit in which they had turned from paganism to the superior morality of Judaism.

But it is plain, also, in His Epistles that many of the new converts were saved from lives of sin.

How well Paul knew the nature and depths of sin in that century world is evident from such chapters as the epistles to the Romans 1, but what is to the point is that when he lists types of deep sinners in 1 Corinthians 6:9, 10 he adds, making plain the fact and nature of the conversions: "Such were no more stable than some in modern evangelistic campaigns not at all apprehending the nature and demands of the Christian life."

She Can't Take Hint:
2 Unanswered Letters

Dear Dorothy Dix: During the Christmas vacation I visited my cousin in another city. While I was there I met the most wonderful boy! I haven't been able to forget him. I wrote him twice after I came home and haven't received a letter from him yet. How can I gain his interest through mail?

Dear Audrey: I think I'd call two unanswered letters a hopeless case. It would have been better if you had waited for him to start the correspondence. Slowly and perhaps your silence will do more to arouse his interest than your letters did.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My story is just another version of the "mother-in-law" bit. My husband and I have been married seven years and have no trouble in our own home. For about five years I got along quite well with his family. Of course there were things said and done I didn't like, but I overlooked them. My mother-in-law has always been partial to her own daughters, praising them to me every chance she gets, buying them gifts which she could ill afford, and "lending" them money which was important enough for her to lie about. I feel she has overlooked the many things my husband did for his family. I resent her attitude, she knows it, and things are pretty strained between us. My husband says I should forget it, but that's easier said than done.

Dear Rita: Your husband is a sane and sensible person; follow his advice. Be thankful that your mother-in-law is babying her daughters and not her son. Then you really would have a gripe. Learn to say, and mean, things like, "What a lovely tablecloth you gave Sheila. It will go so beautifully with your wedding china," or "Lorna looked so charming when I ran into her Sunday. Her suit was so becoming and to think she made it herself. What talent!"

In brief, butter your mother-in-law up. It doesn't cost anything and the reward is a harvesting of family harmony.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Manny is a very nice boy. I've known for a month. He has just one fault: Whenever he has nothing to talk about he makes up fantastic stories.

Dear Geraldine: Which would you prefer, dead silence or interesting stories? Since Manny makes no pretense that they are true, he's a talented story teller who is wasting his talents on you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My soldier boy friend has stopped writing to me because he says I worry too much about him. I love him dearly and want to know how I can get him to write again.

Dear Emmy: By forgetting that aggravating pit of punctuation known as the question mark. When he says "worry," he means "nagging." Didn't you have a habit of punctuating your letters quite liberally with questions: "Where have you been?" "What do you do?" "Have you dated anyone?" etc. Write once more, tell him you didn't realize he'd take offense at your questions and promise they won't be repeated.

Commodity Recipient Increase in State

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The number of persons receiving federal surplus commodities increased to $259,000 in February, state welfare commissioner Carl Adams said Wednesday.

Mississippi county led in the number of recipients with 21,600, followed by Phillips with 19,000. St. Francis with 18,450 and Crittenden with 18,350. The four cotton-belt counties also led the state in January, when the total number of persons receiving the surplus food was 238,250.

Miller county, which dropped out of the program last year, returned in February, increasing the number of counties in the program to 87.

Under the program, 3,951,028 pounds of cheese, rice, flour and milk were distributed, Adams said. He estimates its retail value at about $780,000.

Pulaski county officers, Little Rock mayor Werner C. Knoop, and North Little Rock Mayor William Laman were to meet with the name of Christ, or profess to carry on His mission ought to be primarily concerned about seeking and saving the lost, about saving sinners.

A grave question is as to how effective all Christian agencies have been, and are, in accomplishing that mission.

The recent Billy Graham evangelistic campaign in New York illustrates both the success and the failure of Christian effort of the churches, participating under the leadership of an earnest Christian and able preacher, in himself and in his campaign, free from the commercialism and sensationalism that have marred the activities of some earlier evangelists.

Yet it is a question how far the movement penetrated beyond the church constituency itself, or reached the sinner and sinners of a great modern city.

One who remembers the Parable of the Lost Sheep will not cavil at the conversion of individuals but the effective evangelism of a whole community, or an entire city, depends upon reaching the sources and conditions that make for sin and sinners. That is the unaccomplished mission of the churches.

gress, to be effective in fighting the recession, would have to be applied immediately or its enactment.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration today is reported to be drawing up a major tax cut bill aimed at ending the recession by giving consumers millions of dollars more to spend.

Highly placed informants did not reveal exact details of the tax bill or tell when it may be presented to Congress. But they said the plan under consideration would pump large sums into business—especially smaller firms.

There seemed to be an informal agreement, between the administration and Democratic leaders in Congress that neither would formally propose a major tax cut without advance notice and consultation.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) was resoundingly defeated Thursday night by a 71 to 14 roll call when he tried to attach a $5,200,000 tax cut to a pending insurance bill. Senate leaders were not necessarily opposed to cutting taxes, but they objected to the effort to do it through an amendment added to the House-approved insurance tax bill without congressional hearings.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) called the Senate into early session today in hopes of getting the insurance bill passed by nightfall.

Douglas said he will offer a new proposal which would stress cuts in excise taxes and abandon his earlier call for a $50 income tax reduction for individuals.

Democratic farm leaders predicted the House would move quickly to approve a Senate measure designed to block the administration's scheduled cuts in farm price supports and planting allotments.

However, they conceded the price freeze resolution doesn't have enough support to be enacted into law over a presidential veto.

Senate Rackets Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the fee it would be "extremely difficult" to get the House to pass against the Kohler Co. may go on for another month.

Major developments in Congress Thursday:

Detection: Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby in newly disclosed testimony told a Senate disarmament subcommittee it would be "extremely difficult" to detect an underground nuclear blast inside Russia. He said an agreement banning all nuclear testing would hamper research in the U.S. on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Highways: The Senate public works subcommittee okayed by an 8 to 1 vote an anti-recession road bill to allow the government to dole out an additional $1,500,000,000 in highway funds.

Construction: Another slump-combating step — a resolution calling on the administration to speed military construction programs — was approved by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Inter-American Highway: The House unanimously okayed a bill authorizing an additional 10 million dollars to complete the Inter-American Highway.

knocked out Midwest power lines on route.

Snows up to seven inches covered parts of Ohio and Pennsylvania Thursday, while farther south hail one and one-half inches in diameter fell at Kinston, North Carolina.

On the West Coast, Marine authorities near San Bernardino, Calif., said the wreckage of a private plane which apparently crashed during the snow storm Wednesday had been found. Four servicemen from Barstow Marine Base were believed killed.

Four members of a Greenburg, Ind., family were killed Thursday night when their car was struck by a speeding New York Central Railroad passenger train near Greenburg during a snow storm.

The heavy snows crippled air transportation at Louisville, Ky., temporarily standing the University of Cincinnati basketball team. Seven-inch snowfalls in Indiana and southern Illinois caused schools to close down when buses carrying children were unable to maneuver over drift-covered highways.

Almost all the power in two southern Illinois counties was knocked out while 400 to 500 miners in the area had to walk or climb to the surface when elevators ceased operating.

Maximum snow depths were surprisingly uniform. Up to seven inches of snow were reported near the Kentucky-Louisville border, and up to six inches in parts of Virginia.

Snow kept falling as the storm moved into the eastern section of the country.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported new snow from one to welfare department officials today to discuss Pulaski county re-evaluating the program.

Says Water Projects Can Be Developed

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today a supplemental appropriation of $14,760,000 for the Soil Conservation Service would enable that agency to increase the number of new small watershed development and flood prevention projects from 60 to about 100 in fiscal 1959.

President Eisenhower asked Congress Wednesday to increase the original SCS 1959 budget of $27,220,000 to $42,000,000 as a means of helping the nation pull out of the economic recession.

Benson said the proposed new spending would speed up needed soil and water conservation work, and would help stimulate business activity in rural areas and in the general economy.

No projects were pinpointed to receive the proposed new money. An SCS spokesman said the projects which would receive the money would be those which reach construction stage first.

Before a project is ready for construction the local sponsoring organization must perfect plans, put up its share of the cash and labor (usually about 50 per cent of the money) get approval of the agency administrator, and, in some cases, approval of the appropriate congressional committee.

There are now 71 small watershed development and flood prevention projects under way. There are 755 which are in various stages of development.

Wreck Fatal to Greenwood Man

FORT SMITH (UP)—Robert Harper 65, of Greenwood, died in the collision of his car and a truck on rain-slicked U.S. highway 71 late Wednesday.

State Trooper Mack Burton said Harper's car hit a truck driven by Arnold Blasi of Wellington Kan. Blasi was not hurt.

three inches deep over the Virginias, Ohio and Pennsylvania, North of the snow band, in New England, flurries were common, while generally light rains peppered the southeast.

At Virginia Beach, Va., however, a severe thunderstorm pounded the area before midnight. Trees were uprooted and windows blown out in the wake of storm winds. Fallen trees and telephone poles blocked secondary roads in parts of the state.

Early today there were snow flurries in the Great Lakes, the Upper Mississippi region, the northern Plains, the Rockies, and the Great Basin area. There also was rain along the Pacific Coast.

Grace Has a Son, Monaco Really Booms

MONTE CARLO (UP)—The boom of ancient saluting cannon here today signaled the birth of a boy to Princess Grace—an heir to the throne of tiny Monaco.

The cannon boomed 101 times, and with the 22nd "shot" a surge of excitement raced across the resort principality. If Grace's second child had been a girl like the first, only 21 guns would have fired.

The 8-pound, 8-ounce prince was delivered at 10:50 a.m. by a team headed by Paris gynecologist Emile Hervet—the same doctor who officiated at the birth 15 months ago of Princess Caroline.

The new baby, Prince Albert Alexandre Louis Pierre, will take royal precedence over his older sister because of his sex. He will be called Prince Albert.

Hervet was assisted today by two other doctors—baby specialist Paul Gandelon and surgeon Maurice Dumat—and a nurse, Suzanne Leclerc.

The first word of the prince's sex came unofficially from an unidentified girl who opened a ground-floor window at the place and shouted to newsmen: "It's a boy!"

The news was confirmed officially a few minutes later.

The birth of an heir to Prince Rainier will continue the rule in Monaco of the Grimaldi family, which has provided its princes almost continuously since 1297.

The tiny prince weighed four ounces more than his sister at birth and measured 20½ inches long. He has light blue eyes and chestnut brown hair.

Caroline, born a redhead is now a blonde.

All Monaco was ablaze today with Monacan flags, in honor of Rainier and Albert, and U.S. flags for Grace—the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia and Hollywood.

State Teachers Hires Coach of Pine Bluff

CONWAY (UP)—Arkansas State Teachers College today announced the appointment of Cliff Horton of Pine Bluff as head basketball coach effective next June.

Horton, coach now at Pine Bluff High School, will replace Cecil Garrison who was coach for nine years. Garrison will remain on the college department of physical education staff.

The new coach is a 1948 graduate of the University of Arkansas where he played on the varsity squad for three years.

CEILINGS OUTDATED

LONDON (UP)—British Home Secretary R. A. Butler is considering a boost in fines for drunkards to bring the payments into line with present-day values of money.

Under existing legislation, the highest fine that can be imposed for drunkenness in England is 10 shillings ($1.40) and for drunken and disorderly behavior, two pounds ($5.00).

Milers to Shoot for a New Record Ireland's four-minute mile from Villanova and three other Olympic champions will shoot for new indoor records tonight in the first event Chicago Daily News reports at the International Amphitheater.

Delaney, who has been running only as fast as needed to win in chalking up 27 consecutive indoor victories, was rated a good bet to lower the existing world mark for the mile of 4:03.8.

The fleet Irishman will run against opposition he has been facing most of the indoor season—Phil Coleman, Burr Grim and Jim Beatty.

Bob Gutowski, world's outdoor pole vaulting champion, will take his first Chicago crack at Cornelius Warnerman's indoor mark of 15 feet, 8 1/2 inches.

Glenn Davis, olympic champ in the 400-meter hurdles, will run in the 60-yard high hurdles and was expected to get his toughest competition from Hayes Jones, the National AAU title.

A third Olympic champ in the meet is Greg Bell of Indiana. Bell will match stride against a field including Ira Madsen of West, Ed Coleman of Villanova, and Pittsburgh's Mel Barnwell in the 50-yard dash.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UP)—Underdogs St. Michael's of Vermont and South Dakota meet tonight for the NCAA small college basketball championship while the favorites, second rated Wheaton and fourth ranked Evansville, play the consolation game for third place.

St. Michael's, unranked nationally and a nine-point underdog, advanced to the title battle with a surprising 78-70 victory over Evansville Thursday night while South Dakota, rated 11th nationally, came through with a 64-60 win over Wheaton.

St. Michael's played only five men for the second straight game and Coach Doc Jacobs explained, "our best back court reserve (Ralph St. Peter) is lying down in our hotel with measles and our best front court reserve (Warren Tessier) has such a sore leg I don't think I can use him."

Sammie Dean to Speak to Group

JUNCTION CITY (UPI)—A 16-year-old girl suspended then reinstated Wednesday in Little Rock Central High School was scheduled to talk to a Citizens Council meeting here today.

Miss Sammie Dean Parker was to come here with Rev. Wesley Bruden, president of the Capital Citizens Council of Little Rock.
The girl was re-instated at Central Wednesday after being suspended from classes for distributing cards which read "One down—eight to go." The cards were referring to the expulsion of Minnie Jean Brown, one of the nine Negro students at Central.

The History of the GAS LIGHT...

The first practical use of gas in modern times was for street lighting. When William Murdoch, a British engineer and inventor, lighted his cottage with manufactured gas in 1792, he literally opened up a whole new industry and changed the living habits of the civilized world. By 1798, he had developed his invention to a point where he was using manufactured gas to light his entire factory. And in 1804, Murdoch built a gas works to light a large cotton mill in Manchester, England, with 900 burners.

The first public street lighting with gas took place in Pall Mall in London on January 28, 1807. In 1812, Parliament granted a charter to "The London & Westminster Gas Light & Coke Co.," and the first gas company in the world came into being. A few years later, on December 31, 1813, the Westminster Bridge was lighted by gas.

Following this success, gas lighting spread quickly to other countries. In the United States, Baltimore in 1816 was the first city to light its streets with gas. In 1820, Paris adopted gas street lighting.

The first introduction of gas lights in Rembrandt Peale's museum in Baltimore in 1816 proved to be such a sensation and success that Peale quickly organized a gas company to light the city. The city council passed an ordinance in June, 1816, permitting Peale to manufacture gas, lay pipes in the streets, and contract with the city for street lighting. This was the first gas company founded in the United States.

Use of natural gas in America came into being in Fredonia, New York, in 1820, when the first gas well was drilled to a depth of 27 feet. Industrious citizens hustled the gas into town via lead pipelines.

Shortly after the excitement of its discovery, Fredonia played host to an illustrious French nobleman, the Marquis de La Fayette, Revolutionary War hero and personal friend of George Washington. La Fayette marveled that all the streets of the town were completely lighted by gas. He was even more amazed to sit down to a gas-cooked dinner served in his honor.

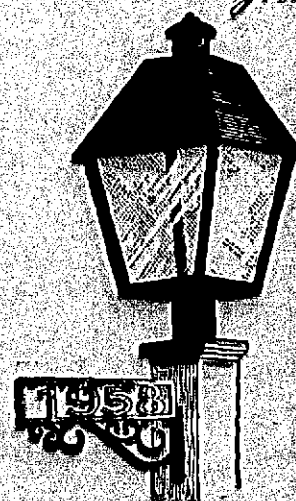

In 1858, Fredonia went on to establish the first recorded corporation to serve natural gas to business and residential customers.

Fredonia's discovery of natural gas opened the rapid expansion of the industry in the decades that followed. Manufactured gas was in wide use too, in later years of the 19th Century. At Shreveport, gas mains were in the streets as early as 1859. In Little Rock, the first gas street light went up in 1888.

During the decade from 1865 to 1875, the use of gas for lighting as well as for cooking made significant progress. Soon much of America, as well as other countries, was lighted by gas. The lamp lighter became a familiar figure, and streets at night took on a warm, friendly glow.

In nostalgic memory, the "Gaslight Era" was a period of unhurried, gracious living, never to be forgotten.

And now, your Gas Company is bringing back that nostalgic memory with picturesque, but practical, Gas Lights... Because of the great demand we are manufacturing them, a new product reminiscent of the state and the nation's great heritage.
